THE DAILY AVALANCHE.

[illegible] has just passed his eighty-fourth birthday.

[illegible] lives in La Porte.

Mr. Allan McRae, of Vicksburg, Miss., [illegible]

A movement is on foot to start a "semi-religious" newspaper in Brighton.

Dickens once tried his pen on a farce and an opera libretto. Both were d——d!

Miles O'Reilly's ticket was defeated in New York. He calls it "our lost cause."

[illegible] quizzes a radical paper called the Globe by styling it a globule.

A German at Huntsville has educated his canary birds in the point of drinking lager beer.

The Republican party:—"I was well, took an overdose of Tribune, and here I am!" [New York Commercial Advertiser.

Joe Coburn has left New York for Cincinnati to make the match with McCoole for a prize fight for a purse of $10,000.

One hundred "danseuses" were among the attendants at the recent funeral of Dr. Veron, in Paris.

A lunatic at Dixmont fancies he is editor of a New York paper. He might be for all his lunacy.

The Roman Catholic Bishop of Liverpool has created an excitement in that city by preaching against low-necked dresses.

Mr. Delaine, editor of the London Times, has been on a visit to Dunrobin Castle, the seat of the Duke of Sutherland.

The number of soldiers on guard at Buckingham Palace has been increased. The Queen is afraid of the Fenians.

Some time ago Senator Johnson, of Maryland, lost the sight of his left eye, and now a cataract is forming on his right eye.

It is not so much Grant that the Tribune objects to as Forney, to whom the "white hatted philosopher" has given a very cold shoulder.

John R. Bullard, of Dedham, twenty-one years of age, is the youngest member of the next Massachusetts House of Representatives.

It is uncertain whether Mr. Thornton will come as British Minister to Washington or not, though Lord Stanley urges his appointment.

Howard Jenkins, the proprietor of the Planter's House at Platte City, Missouri, has been killed by a negro whom he had discharged from his employment.

The heirs of Aneke Jans, who claim the Trinity Church property, met in convention at Poughkeepsie, Wednesday. There were 200 men and women present.

Walt Whitman was attached to the editorial staff of the New Orleans Crescent in 1848. He had not then developed any talent for poetry, if he has since.

The weather of Alaska is said to be delightful, with the exception that it rains continually from the last of July to the middle of June.

A reverend prohibitor in Massachusetts tenderly observes in a sermon that Governor Andrew had not died soon enough for his reputation.

Bruce McIlvaine, son of the Episcopal Bishop of Ohio, was lately married to a daughter of Bishop Lee, of Wilmington, Delaware. The Bishop of Ohio assisted the Bishop of Delaware.

The photoperipatetigraph, according to the Philadelphia Photographer, is a dark closet on two wheels, which contains all the apparatus required by the photographer who wishes to make a picture of a parade, or the scene of a boiler explosion or railway catastrophe.

That amorous old gentleman, M. Alexander Dumas, has another flame, it seems, in a Mdlle. Duverger, who plays at the Theater de Cluny, and in a gushing letter the old novelist proclaims her to the world as an artist who shall one day take precedence of every living actress.

Wade said the other day, "if the negroes want land let them work for it." The New York Times regards this as a "step backward," and adds: "If such language isn't high treason, in these days of the 'great struggle between capital and oppressed labor,' we should like to know what it is."

A young fellow in Berlin made a bet that he would kiss twenty-five young ladies on the public promenade in the Thiergarten. He succeeded in kissing three, getting his ears slapped by one of them, and being arrested by a constable. The police magistrate dismissed him next morning with the admonition to go and kiss no more.

The fountain in front of the royal palace of Holyrood, Edinburg, has recently undergone a thorough cleaning. Cleaning in general is a process of improvement; but when applied to a building put up in imitation of the antique, the removal of the green lichen from the stones rather offends than pleases the eye. The palace, of which it is adjunct, remains grim, as well as green with age.

This is the courteous way in which the Leavenworth (Kansas) Conservative speaks of Mrs. Elizabeth Cady Stanton: "Stanton visited the polls and harangued the men. She slobbered over the Copperheads in the following choice manner: 'The good Democrats are going to carry this thing through. The true Irishmen are all going to vote for women.'"

Mr. F. W. Robertson, the English dramatic writer, received a considerable amount of money from a Baltimore manager, as his share of the profits realized from the performance of "Caste" in the Monumental City. "Such a spontaneous acknowledgment of an author's claim," says an English editor, "which could not be enforced in the present state of international copyright, deserves to be recorded."

One of the popular amusements in Constantinople is the telling of the "Arabian nights" in the coffee shops. These stories serve them for sermon, drama, lecture and minstrels; just as Homer used to amuse the Greeks. In passing by the doors of some of the coffee shops, you will notice a man standing in the centre of the room telling the tale, while around him sit a score or more of listeners, eagerly drinking in every word he utters, and occasionally bursting out in a fit of uncontrollable laughter.

Matilda Heron was one of the audience who witnessed the fine performance of "La Dame aux Camelias," at the French theater, New York, on Saturday evening last. If her countenance indexed her feeling, she enjoyed the play throughout; and at its close, when M'lle Deborah was called before the curtain to receive an exquisite bouquet of camelias, the American Camilla applauded the French Marguerite Gauthiers very heartily.

Dr. James Dickinson Foster, for many years an able physician of New Orleans, died Thursday, after an illness of two weeks, of acute dysentery. During his residence in New Orleans the deceased exhibited an energetic disposition marked by many triumphs of medical skill, which his modesty withheld from publicity. He made many friends, who were friends to the last, and who now mourn his loss. He held various positions of honor, and in all exhibited the same determination which characterized him to the close of his life. The son of Ephraim H. Foster, once Senator from Tennessee, he possessed the same sterling qualities that distinguished his sire. So says the New Orleans Times.

Somebody in the Houston Telegraph, who evidently has the cultivated taste of a Frenchman, wants to know "who will introduce fine frogs into the Houston market?"

The only fruit which grows in every climate is the strawberry. It is the only fruit which, somewhere on earth, is picked every day the year round.

The Boston Post, before the election, headed its ticket with "Adams and Liberty," the title of the patriotic song so much in vogue in the days of Mr. Adams' grandfather.

The Roman Catholic churches in New York are to subscribe $100,000 a year toward the erection of the new cathedral on Fifth avenue, until it is completed.

Some of the learned French doctors attribute the death of M. Fould to smoking a cigar after an attack of palpitation of the heart.

The latest Parisian duel was fought between Prince Achille Murat and the Marquis de Rouge. The Marquis was slightly wounded in the arm.

"Terrible boiler explosions" seem to be epidemic, no less than ten having occurred in various parts of the United States within the last two weeks. Each of these accidents was attended with more or less loss of life.

Dion Bourcicault got a verdict of $900 from the jury of the United States District Court at Chicago, against J. H. Wood, of the Museum, for using three unpublished plays written and copyrighted by Bourcicault.

The exhorbitant prices demanded by the Parisian holders of the copyright of Gounod's opera of Romeo and Juliet, have induced the managers of the German opera houses to combine in declining to produce the work.

A new edition of a German translation of the letters of Junius is announced to appear in Leipsic. In Vienna, the letters have been made the basis of a drama, the characters of which include the leading political men of the time in England.

The case of John C. Braine, the alleged Chesapeake pirate, was brought up in the Circuit Court at Brooklyn, on Wednesday. The prisoner being present, he stated that he desired a trial, but his counsel was in Washington. The court set the trial for Monday.

The application for a writ of habeas corpus in the case of Major McCardle, editor of the Vicksburg Times, was argued in Jackson, before Judge Hill, on the 11th instant. The decision of Judge Hill, it was expected, would be made public the next morning.

Dr. Magowan estimates the loss of life by the Taeping war in China at twenty-five millions. "An intelligent Chinese" sets the total loss at four times that number. Extremely modest estimates, especially when we remember that the deadly weapon, the gong, is used in their battles.

As this is the season when sore throat is prevalent, we publish the following for the benefit of sufferers: Dissolve a small piece of alum in sage tea, then mix a little honey; or two drachms of oak bark in six ounces of boiling water. Use the liquid after it becomes cold.

The New York Tribune condemns the arrest of the Editor of the Vicksburg Times by General Ord. The editor thinks the General has made a grave mistake, and adds he don't believe the violent language or the most violent rebel editors make it either proper or polite in a Union General to lock them up. These men, says Greeley, are never dangerous until they become popular martyrs.

A Short Love Story.

A writer in the London Standard tells an amusing love story. He says:

Look now, at the elegant Damoiselle at that young and amiable reclining as a tender flower at the side of her mother. Several cavaliers caracol next the doors of the carriage; they are pretenders to her hand, for she is a rich heiress. M'lle Zenobie has too long cultivated innocent flirtation; she was fond of the homage which followed her everywhere in town, in villegiatura, and in the ball room. Such is her candor that she is afraid to lose her court by marrying. It is why she has hesitated, retreated, declined till now. At last the day has arrived when she must bow to the will of her family. An opulent uncle has sworn that he would not leave her a centime were she not to marry during the present winter. "You have your etrennes," says that unmerciful uncle, "only when you shall have made a choice, and tell me the name of the heureux coquin."

"Bring your present to-morrow morning," answered Zenobie, smiling.

Then the uncle echoed the oracle; the pretenders were more languishingly amiable than ever, and four of them dared to ask her hand.

"Whom will you choose?" asked the uncle.

"The first I shall meet with in 1867."

Of course M'lle Zenobie told no one where she was to spend the evening. It was a Scotch custom celebrated by Walter Scott that M'lle Zenobie renewed, when solicited to choose a husband. She said to the pleiade of her lovers, "I will marry the one whom I shall see first in 1867."

The four pretenders had followed her to the gate of her mansion, and they placed themselves in ambush to see if she would go out during the evening. After two mortal hours passed in observation and in the chilliness of the night, they came to the sensible conclusion that the race would fairly commence only the next day, and they agreed to abandon so fatiguing a post, and to take the field each on his own ground.

Aurora had scarcely let fall through her rosy fingers a few rays upon the first dawn of the new year than each lover had arrived from different ways at the entrance of the mansion.

"Let us begin the attack," said they, "let us advance in one line, let us go in, though it is rather early to pay visits."

And they knocked and were admitted. Zenobie's mother who had not been put in the confidence by her daughter, was rather astonished at these early calls; but the fine boxes full of bonbons the visitors offered to her cut short her reflections.

An hour passes, but M'lle Zenobie does not show herself. One of the lovers could not conceal his uneasiness, and asked if the ladies had spent the night at a party. "No," answered Zenobie's mother, "but about midnight my daughter felt unwell, and that is why she is not yet down."

"We hope that her indisposition is not serious."

"Not in the least." Zenobie, however, has been frightened at it, and she insisted on being attended by a physician. As our medical man lives a long ways from here she suggested that M. Rodolphe, our young neighbor, should be called in."

"Did he come?"

"Yes; I could not refuse my daughter's wish."

"Baron Rodolphe has not yet got his diploma; he is but a student."

"That did not matter much; the indisposition was not at all dangerous."

Zenobie's uncle then entered the drawing-room, and said:

"I have just left my niece; she is reasonable, she has made her choice, which I approve of. Moreover, the fulfillment of a pledge was in question. She has sworn to choose among all her lovers the one whom she would first meet with in 1867. When this new year began—when the belfry sounded the last stroke of midnight, M. Rodolphe was at her side."

"Well," said the mamma, smiling, "I am completely reassured as to my darling's health."

The four hunters of portions are now beating new tracks.

[illegible] Daniel Drew's Donation.

[From the Albany Evening Times, November 8.]

Last year was the centenary year of Methodism. It was proposed to raise a memorial offering. Mr. Drew was approached to see what he would give, if anything. Without a moment's hesitation he said he would give [illegible] to found a seminary. He wanted it located in Carmel, Putnam county, where he was born. He waived that wish when the good of the church required it. He bought the famous "Gibbons estate," in Madison. He gave the owner $150,000 to go out and leave it all furnished, just as it was; and this gorgeous building, furnished fit for a prince, with its princely grounds, [illegible] and [illegible] the most gorgeous theological seminary in the world. The property consists of two hundred and twenty-five acres, enclosed with a cemented stone fence, iron gate and porter's lodge. Without any alteration the mansion contains chapel, lecture room, library, reading room, rooms for professors and recitation rooms sufficient for one hundred students. Over $100,000 have been spent in repairs; $300,000 will be given as an endowment. A fire-proof building for a library and museum is to go up, and the cost of this and other things, which Mr. Drew will meet, will aggregate the sum of from $700,000 to $1,000,000.

The Reconstruction Convention of Alabama.

Interesting News from Washington.

General Schofield's Prediction Regarding the Virginia Convention.

Assembling of the North German Parliament.

Preservation of Peace Declared Certain in Europe.

Weston, the Pedestrian, Heard From.

MONTGOMERY, ALA., November 15.—The reconstruction Convention to-day adopted a memorial to Congress praying for the removal of the cotton tax, and that taxes paid since the first of September be refunded to the producer.

An order was passed abolishing the new county of Jones, created by the last Legislature, and restoring the old boundaries of counties out of which it was formed.

A resolution was adopted, by a vote of fifty-two to thirty-two, to appoint a special commission to inquire into the expediency of removing the State capital from Montgomery.

CHARLESTON, November 16.—By order of General Canby, all the sheriffs are to make returns to him of delinquent tax-payers, and post commandants are authorized to secure the services of citizens for the necessary repairing of the public highways.

Instructions have been issued as to the manner of conducting elections.

Governor Orr was consulting with General Canby, relative to the new State laws and the approaching election.

RICHMOND, November 16.—No business being before the United States Circuit Court to-day, it adjourned until the 25th, when the trial of Jefferson Davis is to be commenced.

Chief Justice Chase leaves for Washington to-morrow, to be present at the opening of the African high school. It is well understood that he is not to be present at Mr. Davis' trial.

The Conservatives are holding a ward meeting to-night, to appoint delegates to the State Convention.

WASHINGTON, November 16.—Representatives Williams, Boutwell and Lawrence, of the Judiciary Committee, have severally written out their views in favor of the impeachment of the President. The probability is that they will be so harmonious as to form one report.

General Schofield, in his interview with the President the day before yesterday, gave a good deal of information relative to the arming of the blacks in his district. The General stated that the negroes were pretty generally armed, and that the whites in this respect were at a great disadvantage. The propriety of taking some measures to prevent the dangerous use by the blacks of their superiority in arms and organization was discussed, and it is probable some plan will be agreed upon when the General returns here from his visit to New York.

General Schofield is said to be of opinion that the convention business in Virginia will prove a complete failure.

BERLIN, November 15.—The third Parliament of the Confederation of North Germany assembled to-day. The session was opened by the King of Prussia, who, after congratulating the members generally on seeing them assembled, addressed a cordial welcome to the deputies from those provinces which were now represented for the first time. The attention of the members was called to the work of legislation before them, and the various bills which would be submitted to their consideration were referred to in detail. In alluding to foreign affairs, the King declared that the relations of the Confederation with the other nations of Europe were entirely satisfactory; the foreign powers all appreciated and respected the pacific acts of Prussia in regard to the progress of German unity. He said that a conflict with the two States of South Germany, now allied with Prussia, was no longer to be feared, and in settling the question of future relations of the South German States with the Confederation, the Prussian Government would studiously endeavor to reconcile the views of its Catholic subjects with the internal and international interests of the whole fatherland. The King concluded his speech with the declaration that the preservation of peace in Europe was now certain.

CINCINNATI, November 16.—A fire yesterday afternoon destroyed about twenty frame buildings on the corner of Linn and Clark streets. Total loss, about $30,000; partially insured.

NORTH EAST, PA., November 16.—Weston arrived here at 8:55 a.m., making fifty miles, from Silver Creek, in ten hours and five minutes. He does not appear fatigued. He walked from State Line to North East, Pennsylvania, (six miles), in fifty-five minutes.

Condition of Things in Georgia.

We are permitted to make the following brief extract from a private letter written to a professional gentleman in this city by a lady in Georgia. The writer is a New England lady, and is on a visit to her son-in-law, who is the person alluded to in her letter:

"There is one thing you ought to be thankful for. You do get paid for your work. Nobody here does. Judge —— doesn't get a sou marque. The two rascals from whose necks he unloosed the halter haven't ever had the grace to thank him, let alone paying him. All his old negroes come to him to be security for mules and land. He can't refuse, and he has to pay these bonds inevitably. His crops do not pay for the labor this year, and from his vegetable garden everything is stolen by the freedmen; while chickens, geese, pigs and cows disappear most mysteriously. The fences around his land are taken off for firewood, and there is no protection for property or life even. We have ascertained that one of the men servants (C.) is at the head of the Union League. I have no doubt his cabin, which is just in sight of my window, is filled with firearms. Both of Judge ——'s pistols are missing from his room, and C. is his body servant. The news of the Democratic victories has hardly power now to produce much effect. 'Too late' is the feeling with the despondent, broken-hearted people."

Absconded.

We are informed that Captain Reed, negro Bureau and Police Judge of Versailles, has absconded, leaving several matters unsettled behind him. He was to have been married in a few days to a very attractive young lady, but it came out that he had a wife and two children already in Illinois, and he fled to escape the indignation of the citizens. He borrowed an overcoat which he neglected to return, and also forgot to pay his board bill, amounting to some four hundred dollars. A few weeks ago he joined church under the persuasive eloquence of elder Richard Gano—the more readily, as is supposed, to carry out his matrimonial scheme. He has left a vacancy on the judicial bench of our neighboring village and an empty bureau, both of which are to be filled.—Lexington Gazette, 13th.

EDITORIAL

THE PEN IS MIGHTIER THAN THE SWORD.

SUNDAY, : : : : : : : NOVEMBER 17, 1867

THE great want of the South is labor. In order to obtain this we must have stability. No people can in a state of revolution expect immigrants whose presence will be valuable to the country. Our present condition repels rather than invites immigration. The danger of collision of races, the fear of confiscation, the dread of some new disaster, and the general feeling of insecurity are all unfavorable to immigration. We now call upon the good and true men of the North to give us rest. We have passed through fire and blood. We have yielded up the sword. We have turned our thoughts and our hearts to the pursuit of peace. We have patiently borne insult, injustice, humiliation, taxation and disfranchisement. We believe that the Southern people have displayed as great heroism in bearing their countless ills as they did in facing five times their number in the storm of battle. We have borne torture; we have suffered impoverishment, and have stood in the very fires of Molach since the surrender of our armies. Peaceable citizens have been hurried off to military prisons and have been confined in loathsome cells. The civil has been made to yield to the strong arm of the military. Legislatures have been dispersed, and good and true men, without the least charge, have been degraded from offices of honor and trust. Our representatives have been spurned from the halls of Congress; we have been spurned from the superior Court, and a price set upon the heads of as pure patriots as ever obeyed a law or honored a State. All the struggles of the first revolution, all the liberality of our great States, all the heroism of our forefathers, all the glory that has shone upon the grand old banner of the mother of States and statesmen, have been forgotten in the intense hate to the people of the South. Military despots have lorded it over us as PHAROAH lorded it over the Hebrews. They have imposed tasks too heavy to be borne, and have required us to make brick without straw. They have taken more than the pound of flesh, and still they ask for more. They have, by deducting the counties according to Radical rascality, given negroism and ignorance a preponderence over white men. They have, by protracting elections for days and days, given Messrs. Cuffe and Sambo the glorious privilege of voting at five or six different precincts in the same county. If an editor should fail to remember that he was a vassal, his paper is threatened with suppression. Liberty of speech and the freedom of the press, have been alike placed under the ban. Yet all this we have borne with unfaltering fidelity to the Constitution of our fathers. MUCIUS SCAEVOLA, a young Roman, was condemned to die for attempting the life of King PORSENNA. He was brought to the flames, and immediately stretched out his right hand and stood with it burning in the fire until nothing but the stump remained. All this time he never moved a muscle—never gave the least sign of pain. For this exhibition of heroic fortitude the noble King gave him his life, his liberty, and his country. We have stood in the fire, not with our hand burning, but with our whole bodies roasting and seething and broiling for more than two long and trying years, and we appeal to the nobility of human nature, if we have not suffered enough. We want rest, we seek peace, and we pursue it. If we could be let alone, and could bring immigrants of the right kind, our desolated country might be made once more, to rejoice and blossom as the rose.

It is said there is a vein of pure crystal water running beneath every portion of earth's surface. Sometimes it gurgles at the top, and runs off in a beautiful stream. Sometimes it is found but a few feet beneath the surface, and may be reached with the auger in an hour. Again you have to bore for hundreds of feet before you reach the beautiful current. So it is said to be with human nature. There is a pure current of nobility running near its surface, or within its depths. You have but to touch a man, and he runs over with this gushing stream of generous sentiments. Another you will have to probe deeper. But probe on and you will be certain to reach the fountain after awhile. But we doubt the truth of the theory, beautiful as it is. We have tried to reach this stream in the heart of a Radical, and it is not there. We have bored with the largest artesian auger, and have not yet touched the outer surface of a generous sentiment. There is no stream. There is not one crystal drop. No! no! no! a thousand times no! We might probe and labor forever, but never could man or angel find aught good in the heart of a Radical. The wails of suffering, the silent meekness, the calm patience, the dignified fortitude, have all failed to touch a chord of human sympathy in a Radical bosom. This appeal is not to Radicals, but to the men who have again spoken, and roused the sleeping echoes that we were wont to hear in the good old days of constitutional liberty. Give us liberty from this bondage, freedom from this this oppression, rest from this turmoil, and we shall have emigrants from Europe, who will help us to work out this problem of self-government, and beautify this continent.

"THERE is no great loss without some small gain," and this aphorism finds a striking illustration in the superiority of Southern periodical literature, since the war, over the productions of ante-bellum times. If the war was disastrous in every other respect, it has certainly taught us the necessity of comparative independence in periodical authorship and works. We have not yet arrived at the standard, but the entering wedge has been driven, and it is only a question of time, and short time, at that, when we will be wholly independent of the Harpers', North American Reviews, New Nations, and others of that stripe, whose animosity toward us and our every interest is manifested in each line of their columns. We said that we had not reached the standard. It is true; and the Northern critics take advantage of that fact to sneer at every thing coming from a Southern source, and often in cases where the rankest injustice is perpetrated. They are the meanest of cynics. DIOGENES, who believed in the divinity of dirt, and conceived a "tub" the fittest temple to virtue—who crawled through the streets of Athens at noon, lantern in hand, looking for an honest man—is a fair type of the pseudo litterateurs of the North—of the penny-a-lining Bohemians who give tone to its daily press. Reared in a Diogenic school—with bigotry, vanity and jealousy as the paternosters of their litany—they raise against every Southern literary work, or periodical, the unpitying and merciless cry of crucifixion, and with "Tray, Blanche and Sweetheart," and the whole crew of hounds howl down all efforts finding paternity in this Southern country. When the murderer of DANTE, or the hired poet, BOKER, of the Philadelphia Loyal League, or EMERSON, the poet-philosopher of empty, high-sounding phrases, appear before the public, these little venom-eaters dance attendance with their nothingness squibs and plagarized comparisons, like pharasites around a wealthy victim. The noble utterances of PAUL HAYNE, the the finished writings of our SIMMS, the political economy and philosophy of a PIKE, or DEBOW appearing in print, is the signal for the vials of wrath and spleen to be uncorked, that no vestige of the grand ideas of our authors may go untortured or unscathed. While this is the tone which generally pervades the press of the North, there are exceptions such as the Round Table, the Old Guard, the Citizen, and others, which we take a pleasure in noting, and which always should find a place in the library of every Southern gentleman. Discard and shun the villainous, sectional and impartial Atlantics and Harper's—patronize your own Land We Love, Scott's Magazine, Southern Society, and other Southern publications, with such of the Northern press and periodical literature as is disposed to deal candidly by you.

So morally pestilential is Memphis, that we alway behold the departure of a Cairoite to that city with fear and trembling, being aware of the fact, that unless he is possessed of remarkable firmness of mind, little courage, and ability to get out of the way of danger, he will not leave the city either pure in morals or with an unperforated skin. About three months ago, a citizen of Cairo was called to Memphis on business. He was a man of iron will, pure in mind, and brave. After remaining absent three weeks, he returned home, and walked our streets unrecognized. Memphis had been too much for him. He had become a dissipated wretch, and could not, in any particular, be distinguished from an old resident of the Bluff City. His nose had been cut off, and one of his ears severed from his head; a pistol ball wound was visible on his forehead, and friends, who examined his body after he died of too much Memphis, said that he was literally riddled with balls, and for all the world like a seive, or the body of a man who had lived in Memphis for years. When a friend would smile in his presence, he would instantly draw a pistol, after the manner of a Memphis gentleman, and blaze away. He became a talker about honor, and was always wanting satisfaction.

These lines are from the pen of our whilom friend, the senior of the Cairo Democrat; and the person whom he describes as being utterly demoralized by and thoroughly bullet-riddled in this latitude, is himself. It required no generous stretch of hospitality on the part of Memphians for our mistaken and awe-stricken friend to find himself in the first condition alluded to; and as to the bullets and perforations he speaks of, he left us with the same he brought among us—the identical ones which nature blessed him with. The truth is, that when these villagers come here to see and enjoy the sights, they forget their country habits, and recklessly plunge into the wildest dissipations and follies. It is not to be wondered that Memphis is soundly abused by these gentlemen, while still suffering from dipsomania headaches and when on the "high stool of repentance."

By the new postal treaty between Belgium and the United States, the rate of postage on single letters weighing half an ounce or over is reduced to fifteen cents.

The London Times speaks of the last note of Prime Minister Menabrea, declaring the abolition of temporal power as essential to the preservation of peace, as "Italy's ultimatum to France."

A passenger train on the Michigan Southern railroad, from Toledo to Chicago, collided with a switch engine at Elkhart. Three cars were smashed, but only two or three persons slightly injured.

The Soldiers' Fair was inaugurated in Chicago on Wednesday. An immense crowd was in attendance. Speeches were made by Mayor Rice, General Hurlburt, Judge Broadwell and Hon. N. B. Judd.

Thad. Stevens has arrived in Washington. He thinks negro suffrage a fundamental plank in the Republican platform, which must not be abandoned; is sure the party can elect a President of its own way of thinking, and is opposed, therefore, to "sailing under false colors, or being trapped into an expediency nomination."

The St. Louis police are not familiar with ladies without hoops. One, just from Wilmington, Illinois, appeared on the streets of that city without crinoline, the other day, and was immediately arrested on suspicion of being a man in disguise. She was examined and discharged.

The State Department is informed that $5,000,000 worth of property was destroyed by the tornado on the Rio Grande of October 8. Six hundred houses were destroyed, and all ranches for thirty miles around Matamoras were thrown down. At the mouth of the river scarcely a house was left. All the river steamers were wrecked or disabled except one. Twenty persons were killed and forty or fifty wounded.

LONDON, November 16.

The conference proposed by the Emperor Napoleon, for the settlement of the Roman question, seems to be attended with difficulties. The Pope objects to any conference whatever, and the several powers that have been invited to participate are divided on the question of the necessity for a convention. It is asserted that Spain is the only nation that supports the temporal power of the Pope in any event.

It is thought the sentences of most of the Fenians recently convicted in this city by a special commission, will be commuted to hard labor for a term of years, or banishment. FRENCH MEDICINES PREPARED BY GRIMAULT & COMPANY

Chemists to His Imperial Highness Prince Napoleon.

THESE different medicines represent the most recent medical discoveries, founded on the principles of chemistry and therapeutics. They must not be confounded with secret or quack medicines, as their names sufficiently indicate their composition; a circumstance which has caused them to be appreciated and prescribed by the faculty in the whole world. They widely differ from those numerous medicines advertised in the public papers as able to cure every possible disease, as they are applicable only to but a very few complaints. The most stringent laws exist in France with regard to the sale of medical preparations, and only those which have undergone an examination by the Academy of Medicine, and have been proved efficacious, either in the hospitals or in the practice of the first medical men, are authorized by the government. This fact must be a guarantee for the excellency of Messrs. GRIMAULT & CO.'S medicines.

Dr. Leras' (Doctor of Medicine) Liquid Phosphate of Iron.

The newest and most esteemed medicine in cases of CHLOROSIS, PAINS IN THE STOMACH, DIFFICULT DIGESTION, DYSMENORRHEA, ANEMIA, GENERAL DEBILITY and POORNESS OF BLOOD. It is particularly recommended to regulate the functions of nature, and to all ladies of delicate constitution, as well as to persons suffering under any kind of debility whatsoever. It is the preservative of health par excellence in all warm and relaxing climates.

No More Cod Liver Oil—Grimault's Syrup of Iodized Horse Radish.

This medicine has been administered with the utmost success in the hospitals of Paris. It is a perfect substitute for COD LIVER OIL, and has been found most beneficial in DISEASES OF THE CHEST, SCROFULA, LYMPHATIC DISORDERS, GREEN SICKNESS, MUSCULAR ATONY and LOSS OF APPETITE. It regenerates the constitution by purifying the blood, it being the most powerful depurative known. It has also been applied with happy results to DISEASES OF THE SKIN. Further, it will be found to be of great benefit to young children subject to HUMORS and OBSTRUCTION OF THE GLANDS.

Consumption Cured—Grimault's Syrup of Hypophosphite of Lime.

This new medicine is considered to be a sovereign remedy in cases of PHTHISIS and other DISEASES OF THE LUNGS. It promptly removes all the most serious symptoms. The cough is relieved, night perspirations cease, and the patient is rapidly restored to health.

N. B.—Be sure to see that the signature of GRIMAULT & CO. is affixed to the bottle, as this syrup is liable to imitations.

No More Difficult or Painful Digestion—Dr. Burin du Buisson's (Laureate of the Paris Imperial Academy of Medicine) Digestive Lozenges.

This delicious preparation is always prescribed by the most reputed medical men in France in cases of derangements of the digestive functions, such as GASTRITIS, GASTRALGIA, LONG AND LABORIOUS DIGESTION, wind in the stomach and bowels, EMACIATION, JAUNDICE and COMPLAINTS OF THE LIVER AND LOINS.

Nervous Headaches, Neuralgia, Diarrhea, Dysentery, Instantly Cured by Grimault's Guarana.

This vegetable substance, which grows in the Brazils, has been employed since time immemorial to cure INFLAMMATION OF THE BOWELS. It has proved of late to be of the greatest service in cases of CHOLERA, as it is preventive and a cure in cases of Diarrhea.

Ferro Manganic Powder, prepared by Burin du Buisson, approved by the Academy of Medicine in Paris.

A small quantity of this powder in a glass of water is sufficient to obtain instantly an effervescing mineral and gaseous water to be drank at meals, either pure or mixed with wine. It is a most valuable medicine for persons suffering from Chlorosis, Stomach Aches, and for Ladies suffering from Difficult or Suppressed Menstruation. It is especially recommended to persons unable to digest the ordinary medicines containing iron. This celebrated preparation has the advantage to prevent all constipation, and to contain a certain portion of manganese, considered by the most eminent medical men as indispensable in cases of treatment by ferruginous medicines.

No More Copaiba and Cubebs—Grimault's Capsules and Liquid Extract of Matico Vegetalis.

Where all other medicines have failed these preparations will always effect a cure. They insure rapid and extraordinary cure of severe, recent and chronic cases of private disease. They are used in the hospitals of Paris by the celebrated Dr. Ricord, and are found greatly superior to all hitherto known mineral remedies and copaiba and cubebs. The injection is used in recent and capsules in the most chronic cases.

GALLAWAY, RHEA & CLUSKEY.

Preaching to-day, at eleven a.m., at the Methodist Episcopal Church, Union street.

Elder T. W. Caskey will preach at the Linden street Christian Church to-day, at eleven a.m., and at seven p.m. Sunday school at half-past nine a.m.

COMMITTED.—A negro boy aged thirteen has been committed to the Tipton county jail for killing a younger brother.

LAW COURT MEETING.—The Law Court meets at nine o'clock on Monday morning, to pass resolutions relative to deceased members of the bar. Orations will be delivered by prominent legal gentlemen.

FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH.—There will be preaching this morning and evening in this church by the pastor. Services commence at night at seven o'clock. The ordinance of baptism will be administered after the night service.

ASSAULT.—Jerey Owen and Lucy Owen were up before Esquire Miller yesterday on a charge of assault with intent to kill. The charge of assault only was sustained, and the twain released on their own recognizance to appear at the next term of the Criminal Court.

CHELSEA BAPTIST CHURCH.—Usual services at this place to-day, at eleven a.m. No services at night, there being a number of applicants for baptism; the pastor and congregation will worship with the First Baptist Church, when the ordenance will be administered.

RELIGIOUS.—Elders Meaders and Morris, Old School Baptist, of Mississippi, will preach this (Sunday) morning at half-past ten o'clock, at the Presbyterian Church, on Echols street, near the corner of Elliott street. Come hear them; seats free.

ENVELOPS.—We noticed yesterday an immense number of envelops, nearly 150,000 dozens, at the book store of Copperthwaite & Chapman, which we understood to be sold Eastern prices. They are of the best material, and will be a good catch for small dealers. Go and look at them.

ST. GEORGE'S BENEVOLENT ASSOCIATION.—A special meeting will be held in the Municipal court room, corner of Union and Second streets, on Monday, November 18, at half-past seven p.m. All members are requested to be present. Certificates of membership will be on hand.

BLACK CROOK.—There was no performance at the Greenlaw last night, Mr. Deagle having been enjoined from producing the Black Crook here. Yesterday evening his effects were levied on by Mr. McVicker, on account of McDonough, for the payment of the disputed claims as to the copyright.

"THE CRYSTAL PALACE."—This well known saloon will again throw open its doors to the lovers of the finest of wines, liquors and ales on Monday. A sumptuous free lunch to be spread to its patrons every day from nine to eleven o'clock. Our friends can not do better than give the "Crystal Palace" a call when they require anything in its line.

NICHOLSON PAVEMENT.—The work of paving Main street with the Nicholson is being pushed rapidly forward. The pavement has already been laid below Monroe street and the grading has been completed below Gayoso street. If the company are not hindered by a lack of material, as they were last week, the work will be completed at an early day.

SHELBY AND HIS MEN.—Persons desiring copies of Shelby and His Men, a new and authentic history of the war in the West, just issued and ready for delivery, should apply to James H. Sullivan, sole agent for this city, at the AVALANCHE office. The book is neatly bound in fine English morrocco, and contains five hundred pages of printed matter.

FIRE IN FAYETTE COUNTY.—We learn that a gin house and seventeen or eighteen bales of cotton were destroyed by fire on the Winborne place, in Fayette county, a few nights since. The cotton was owned by Mr. Gilliam who had charge of the plantation. The fire was supposed to be the work of an incendiary, and a negro boy named Phillip, was arrested and charged with committing the crime.

FRANKLIN JOB PRINTING.—The best and most complete job printing house in Memphis, unquestionably is the Franklin Job Printing Establishment. They have all the late improvements in the "art preservative of all arts," and are prepared to do every style of job printing in the very best style. Business men should examine the specimens at the Franklin Job Printing Establishment, before having job work done elsewhere.

HORRIBLE DEATH.—We learn that a fire occurred in a negro cabin on Mrs. Ward's place, near Macon, Fayette county, a week ago, by which four negro children met a horrible death. It seems that the mother of the children had left them asleep and gone to another apartment, and when she returned found the interior of the room in flames and herself unable to rescue the inmates, who were perhaps already lifeless.

THE WYTHE DEPOT ROBBERY.—We learn that the highwayman who robbed Mr. Greenleaf near Wythe Depot, some days ago, and three negroes belonging to the clan, have been captured. The former made his escape, but the three negroes were hung, not, however, till they betrayed the den of the robbers, and that the remainder of the clan, fifteen in number, were white men. Two hundred armed citizens are in pursuit of the robbers.

The mortuary report for the week ending Saturday, November 16, at noon, is as follows: Consumption, 6; premature birth, 1; congestion, 3; diarrhea, 2; stillborn, 1; old age, 1; uremia, 1; injury, 1; disease of the heart, 1; meningitis, 1; typhoid fever, 1; brain fever, 1; yellow fever, 16; bilious fever, 1; unknown, 1. Total, 38. Females, 13; males, 25. Negroes, 5; whites, 33.

W. E. ROGERS, M. D.,
Secretary Board of Health.

ROW IN A SALOON.—A number of negroes gathered in the Hardwick saloon, on Union street, last night to spend the night in drunken revelry. After a little swearing and a good deal of drinking came the sequel—fighting. A negro named W. H. Hemis received the brunt of it all. He was struck with a tumbler and a slung shot, and his face terribly mashed. He was taken to Ward & LeGuere's drug store, bleeding profusely all the way, to have his wounds dressed.

NOTICE.—On account of the misrepresentations of Mr. John E. McDonough's agent, J. H. McVicker, an injunction was granted against the representation of my great spectacular drama on last night, because, forsooth, I chose to use scenery bought and paid for by myself. The whole matter is now thrown in the courts, where, I am confident, justice will be done, and a speedy decision had. Due notice will be given of the re-opening and the next performance. GEO. J. DEAGLE.

BURGLARS.—Last night a burglar entered the residence of Charles H. Slaughter, Jr., Assistant Superintendent of the AVALANCHE circulation, 96 Hill street, by opening the door with a false key, and robbed the house of one hundred dollars' worth of clothing and provisions. He afterward entered the house of Mr. George Morris, next door, and carried away a large lot of clothing and other articles. Mr. Donnelly's house, on the same street, was also visited, and robbed of about three hundred dollars' worth of sundry articles.

MENKEN BROS.—Messrs. Menken Bros. have again reduced the prices of their immense stock of dry goods. This is perhaps the largest and best selected assortment in the city, embracing French Empress cloths, Irish and French poplins, elegant delaines, new styles, and a variety of fine imported goods, too numerous to mention, which they will sell less than cost. They are selling elegant delaines at only twenty cents. Call at Menken Bros for the latest styles and best bargains, No. 263 Main street, Menkens' corner.

NEW MEMPHIS THEATER.—There was a good audience at the New Memphis last night, to witness Lotta's second rendition of the "Female Detective" and "Object of Interest." In the first piece her impersonation of the drunken boy was not as well acted as on the night previous, though still very good. The play was well received, and Miss Lotta called before the curtain at the end of the first piece. In the "Object of Interest" her banjo solo was three times encored. Monday night she will appear in "Little Nell and the Marchioness."

IMPORTANT.—The largest sale of building lots that has taken place since the war, will take place on Tuesday morning next, commencing at ten o'clock, when over sixty lots will be sold, regardless of the price bid, and upon long time. These lots are situated on Alabama and Jackson streets and Broadway, and within a short distance of the Mississippi and Tennessee depot, and within a square of the terminus of the street railway. Every lot will be positively sold regardless of the price bid. The title to the property is perfect. Parties who would secure a lot at a very low price, in a healthy and desirable location, and in a part of the city rapidly improving, will do well to attend this sale. As the sale will occupy several hours, refreshments will be furnished for all who may attend. Colonel Monsarrat is the auctioneer.

GREAT INDUCEMENTS TO INVEST IN MEMPHIS PROPERTY—A BEAUTIFUL HOUSE TO BE HAD ON TEN YEARS' CREDIT—CONTINUATION OF THE TREZEVANT SALE OF SUBURBAN LOTS.—The public will be glad to learn that another opportunity will be offered to purchase a house at this extraordinary sale, so happily gotten up to meet the difficulties of the times, in the small amount of cash required, and the length of credit on the deferred payments carrying the purchaser safely through the temporary depression of the present moment. The large attendance at the first sale will be no doubt swelled by numbers who have heard of the good fortune of those who bought on the first day, and who, we understand, have in many instances been offered a large bonus on their purchases.

PERSONAL.—Mr. H. B. Plant, President of the Southern Express company is in the city.

Judge Waldran is recovering, and will probably be able to preside at the Municipal Court on Monday.

Mr. James McVicker, proprietor of McVicker's theater, Chicago, is in the city.

Mr. J. S. Menken, one of the merchant dry goods princes of the South, arrived home yesterday, after an extended trip through Europe and the North. While the great Exposition attracted his attention to a considerable degree, he never for a moment overlooked the wants of the ladies of Memphis in the selection of dress goods, which are rarities just now in this country. The goods are here, and a portion of them will be exhibited during the coming week.

It was our pleasure last night to shake by the hand that true Southern soldier and gentleman, our whilom brother of the quill, Captain J. Harvey Mathes, who has just arrived from Louisville. We extend a cordial welcome to him, and hope his stay among us will be permanent.

THE RACES.

The First Meeting Under the Auspices of the Turf Congress.

Sixth Day—Saturday, November 16.

The Fall meeting of the Memphis Association, held under the auspices of the Turf Congress, came to a brilliant close yesterday. The weather during the whole week was all that could be desired, and everything seemed to work auspiciously to make the meeting what it was—a great success. Too much credit cannot be given to the gentlemanly and capable judges who, during the whole week, have presided impartially over its affairs. Day after day we noticed in the stand, clear, cool-headed and attending to business, with the sole desire to administer impartial justice, the President of the Association, Mr. John Donovan, ably assisted by First Vice-President Dr. McGavock, Second Vice-President, Colonel Cockrell, Mr. Tomlinson and the ex-President of the Association, General Bedford Forrest. The reporters were placed in the same stand with the timing judges, and of them we can speak more knowingly, having been brought into closer connection with them; and a more obliging set of gentlemen it has not been our fortune to meet for lo, these many years. Prompt always at the tap of the bell found Mr. M. C. Costillo, Mr. J. Rogers and J. Odell, watches in hand to note the seconds, halves and quarters of the race. To these gentlemen we have to return thanks for many courtesies and points of information which we could scarcely otherwise have obtained. We cannot pass by the competent and gentlemanly Secretary, Mr. Arthur D. Gibson, to whose energy and tact much of the success of the meeting may be ascribed. The past week was one of work for him, and well and energetically did he perform it to the satisfaction of all. Old horsemen, whose faces have grown bronzed upon the turf, declare that they never before have attended a meeting which has given such universal satisfaction, and this, beyond doubt, is to be ascribed to the efficient officers and Board of Directors of the Association. From this time forward turf matters in Memphis will assume the highest standard of excellence. This cannot well do otherwise, because the ladies who attended this meeting by hundreds have given things such an impetus that they can hardly retrograde, and where dozens of the ladies of Memphis attended this meeting, hundreds will do so next spring.

The attendance yesterday was not so large as the day before, but still it was good, and the ladies' stand was respectably filled. The same good order characterized the proceedings as on all the previous days, and not a single circumstance occurred to mar the pleasure of the occasion. The programme called for three races—the "Saloon Purse," of $600; the "Consolation Purse," of $400, for beaten horses, and a one-mile dash for an Association purse of $100. For the first race there were three entries—"Malcolm," "Pat. Cleburne" and "Viola." In the pool-selling "Malcolm" had the call at great odds, "Viola" occupying a second place. The betting, however, was light, as it was generally conceded that the race was like the handle of a jug—all on one side. For the second race there were five entries—"Jack Gamble," "Ooltawa," "Nelly Gwynne," "Chicamauga" and "Bill Forrest." "Chicamauga" in the pool selling had the call by about two to one, "Nelly Gwynne" holding the next place, and "Jack Gamble" just ahead of "Ooltawa." The betting was slack compared with the previous days, but still a good round sum changed hands, and those who invested on "Nelly," after the first heat were made "sick," and considerable hedging ensued. For the third race not many pools were sold, and those disposed of were so unimportant that we did not take note of them. Precisely at two o'clock the President, attended by his Vice Presidents, appeared in the judge's stand, and the bell was rung to saddle up for the

FIRST RACE.

This was the "Saloon Purse" of $600, for which there was three entries. In the drawing "Malcolm" got the pole, "Pat. Cleburne" was placed in the center, and "Viola" had the outside. In the start "Malcolm" got the lead by about a length, followed closely by "Pat Cleburne," and "Viola" in the rear. "Malcolm" had the advantage of being straddled by "Bob," as sharp a jockey as we remember to have seen. He is the same boy who took down, on Friday, the Post stake and the whip, and he lost no reputation by his steering of "Malcolm" yesterday. But to the race. Before the turn of the first quarter was made "Viola" had given "Cleburne" the shake, and was bowling away after "Malcolm," and when they reached the first quarter, which was made in 27 seconds, she was about a length behind, and the pace lagging. At the half mile pole "Viola" had crawled upon the horse, and her nose was on his flank, but after passing the half-mile he shook her off, and the horses then formed in Indian file, with "Cleburne" acting as the rear guard. The half-mile was made in 54¼ seconds. This position was maintained until the horses swung into the home stretch, when "Viola" commenced to force the pace, and crowded considerably on the Scotland horse, lessening her distance from six lengths to two, when "Malcolm" came under the string. Cleburne struck the score a bad third Time, 1:50.

SECOND HEAT.

The start again saw the Scotland horse first on the jump, with "Viola" second, and honest "Pat" again behind time. Going round the first part of the circle to the quarter, the horses got in a bunch, "Malcolm" a couple of lengths in the lead, and "Cleburne" going for the mare in a manner which plainly meant business. At the quarter pole, which was reached in 24½ seconds, "Cleburne" had got up with "Viola," and a fine race was made between them for the second place up to the half mile pole, just before reaching which, the "Red, White and Red" of "Pat" was seen in the advance. The half mile made in forty-nine seconds. After passing the mare "Cleburne" made a gallant brush for "Malcolm," and in coming into the home stretch it was difficult to tell which had the track, but on the horses straightening out it was seen that "Bob" still held the ribbons of the horse in advance, although at this time it was no dead thing that he would do so at the score. "Viola" was away behind apparently "played," and was only coming along sufficiently quick to save her distance. "Cleburne" was still plying his propellers in a a wicked way for a first place, until he reached the distance stand when he found out he could not come it, and accordingly slackened his pace so that he came home about four lengths behind "Malcolm," with "Viola" a short distance inside the shut out place. Time 1:50½.

THIRD HEAT.

In the start for this heat "Malcolm" had the pole, "Cleburne" in the center, and "Viola" the outside. "Bob" again secured the advance for his bonny bay, and went rasping away, closely attended by "Cleburne," who was thundering at his heels; but before the quarter was reached he had to give place to "Viola," who gave him to understand that her place was in front. She then went for "Malcolm," who was leisurely galloping in front, and at the half mile, which was passed in 53½ seconds, she had her nose close to his saddle girth. "Cleburne" about this time made a dash to close the gap between him and his friends in front, and partially succeeded, but had again to fall back, content to occupy the third place. From the half-mile to the home stretch "Viola" continued pushing "Malcolm," and was apparently forcing the pace. On swinging into the home stretch no daylight could be seen between the horses, and a blanket would have covered the three. "Malcolm" and "Viola" appeared to be coming home neck and neck, and a beautiful and exciting race it was. Whip and spur and bridle rein were freely used to add to the impetus of the horses, and they were so close together that the whip could only be used on one side. The pace down the home stretch was terrible. At one time it was thought that "Viola" was ahead, but it was not so, for "Malcolm" poked his nose under the string first by about a throat latch. After entering the home stretch there was no visible daylight between the horses, and taken all together it was a rattling heat. Time, 1:49½.

The next race on the tap was the "Consolation" stake of $300, $100 added by the pool seller, for beaten horses during the meeting. This was what, in sporting parlance, is called a handicap. The following were the entries, and the weights they had to carry: "Chicamauga," four years old, ninety-five pounds; "Nelly Gwynne," five years old, one hundred pounds; "Ooltowa," eight years old, one hundred pounds; "Jack Gamble," four years old, ninety pounds; "Bill Forrest," four years, 90 pounds. This handicap weight, as a matter of course, made a great difference in the going of the horses, particularly when it came to the heavy ground in the back stretch, where it told most disastrously upon those who were compelled to carry ten pounds additional for being aged. About half an hour after the winning of the Saloon Purse, the bell rang for the SECOND RACE.

For this event there were five entries, all of them having been beaten in one or more of the races of the previous days. On stripping the horses showed well, particularly "Chicamauga," who was drawn fine, and his form seemed almost perfect. He was as full of fire as a furnace, and it was with much difficulty that he could be controlled, and was the occasion of a couple of false starts, and any amount of other trouble. In placing the horses for the first heat "Bill Forrest" got the pole, placed next to him was "Ooltawa," "Nelly Gwynne" being the center figure, gallantly waited on by "Jack Gamble," while the favorite, "Chicamauga," was placed out in the cold, but this did not, however, prevent "Bob" from getting the lead from the field; when he did get his horse ready for the start, he went like a flash of lightning to a first place, secured the track and rattled away. The rest of the horses were in a bunch, and at the quarter pole "Jack Gamble" just emerged from the crowd and went for the favorite, with "Nelly Gwynne" sticking as close to him as a poor man's plaster. The first quarter was made in twenty-six seconds, and away flew the whole field. This was sure enough no lagging pace, for both "Nelly" and "Jack" were doing their best to overhaul the chestnut. "Nelly," however, seemed to have the best of "Jack" and got close to a first place, but she could not make it. About a length behind "Jack," "Ooltawa" was plying a steady, telling stroke, and came on "Jack" before he expected it, and and had almost secured a third place, when "Jack" let himself loose, and put a little more daylight between them. On coming into the home stretch, the horses were paired and in a bunch. First was "Chicamauga," with "Nelly" at his counter; then came "Gamble" and "Ooltawa," running along as even as even could be, while "Forrest" was falling hopelessly behind, and already about out, for it seemed almost impossible for him to save his distance. About half way down the stretch, "Chicamauga" began to draw away from "Nelly," who was coming home under the whip; but just as she reached the distance stand she let down, and was passed by "Jack Gamble" and "Ooltawa" in rapid succession. "Chicamauga" came over the score the winner of the heat in 1:47½—"Jack Gamble" second, "Ooltawa" third and "Nelly Gwynne" fourth, with "Bill Forrest" distanced.

SECOND HEAT.

"Chicamauga" had the pole, and in the send off he got the jump on the others, but did not keep it long, for before the first quarter was made the gallant gray mare had collared and passed him. The first quarter was made in 26½ seconds, and all things now looked favorable for a rattling fast heat, and sure enough it was. After passing the quarter, "Bob" put more weight on the safety valve, and crowded his horse ahead, going at a fearful pace for the mare, now about a length in the lead, and [illegible] in the back stretch, the weight on "Nelly's" back commenced to tell, and he collared her, and just after passing the half-mile pole he most ungallantly gave her the go by. The horses were now spread out in a string, with "Chicamauga" in the lead, and "Ooltawa" last. About this time "Ooltawa" commenced to try the bench in the field, and rapidly closed the gap between him and "Nelly," and passed her, and went tearing onward for "Gamble," who was essaying to join "Chicamauga," now some two lengths in the lead. Just before reaching the home stretch "Ooltawa" got "Gamble" and passed him finely. Not content with a second place, he coveted that occupied by "Chicamauga," and he commenced forcing the chestnut to put forth his reserves if he wished to stay in front. Soon he shuts out all the daylight that was between him and the son of "Jack Malone," but "Chicamauga" was not going to be had so cheap, so Bob commenced to ply his whip industriously, and succeeded in again opening the gap to half a length, in which position they came under the string. "Gamble" occupied the third place, and "Nelly Gwynne" the fourth. Time, 1:46.

This was the fastest race of the meeting, and the time of the last heat has seldom been beat. It is, we believe, but two seconds behind the fastest recorded mile in this country, and we think, after we have a few more such heats put upon the record, it will be conceded that the Memphis track has some pretensions to be considered fast.

THE THIRD RACE.

This was a mile dash for $100. There were three entries—the "Maid of Memphis," "Frank," and "Sallie Thomas." The race, if it may be called such, was won by "Sallie Thomas." The "Maid of Memphis" baulked at the start, and did not leave the stand until the other horses were nearing the first quarter. It was a regular string, with about a quarter of a mile between each horse. "Sallie Thomas" came home in 2:00.

THE VARIETIES THEATER.—An entirely new company of performers have been engaged by the handsome and popular manager, Mr. Broome, on Washington street. It is due to him, as well as the public, to say that the surroundings of this somewhat noted locality have undergone an entire change—a moral fumigation has taken place, which will be appreciated by all lovers of law and order. Mr. Broome is too well known in this community to require any special commendation at our hands. He is using his utmost endeavors to elevate the class of amusement in which he is engaged. His efforts are likely to be met with success as they are properly directed, and will be appreciated by the public accordingly. Nothing will be presented that could offend the eye of prudery or the love of modesty. This is a broom that sweeps clean, and we hope will make a clean sweep of greenbacks.

CHANCERY COURT.—Wm. M. Smith, Chancellor, etc. Yesterday being motion day, the following orders and decrees were entered:

Harrison vs. Blackburn, order of reference.
Davidson vs. Davidson, report confirmed.
[illegible] vs. Pope, decree for complainant, etc.
Greenlaw vs. Hopkins, sale confirmed.
Mitchel vs. Miller et al., [illegible] for defendant.
Martin vs. Churchill, sale confirmed.
Hempstead et al. vs. Lowery, sale confirmed.
James vs. Apple, order of reference, etc.
Alexander vs. Alexander, divorce decree.
Price vs. Parker, decree for petitioner, Williams.

Court adjourned over to Monday, November 18, 1867.

Chancellor Smith issued an order on J. B. Bingham to Deputy United States Marshal, returnable Tuesday, November 19, 1867, to appear and show cause, why he forcibly took possession of property levied on by the Sheriff, and in his hands. It seems that Marshal Bingham ejected the Sheriff's watchman from the premises, and took possession of the property by virtue of a writ from the United States Court, by what authority, however, however, except force, Mr. Bingham will be called upon to show on Tuesday next, in response to the above rule of the Chancellor.

CRIMINAL COURT.—Wm. Hunter, Judge, etc. In the case of the State vs. Cunningham et al., indictment for burglary, etc., the jury found the defendant, John Henry, guilty, and fixed the penalty at ten years' imprisonment in the penitentiary. A verdict of not guilty was found for the other defendants, P. Cunningham, Jim Richards and Louis Wright. In the case of the State vs. Henry Peebles, indictment for grand larceny, the jury found the defendant guilty, and fixed the penalty at seven years' imprisonment. The jury in the case of the State vs. Manuel Patterson, attempt to commit burglary, had not been able to agree up to a late hour last evening. Court adjourned over to Monday, the 18th instant. The jail cases will continue to be called for trial on that day.

THE ART.—We know of no artists in this city who have done so much to advance the profession they have adopted as the Messrs. Hanberry. They have made improvements on the ambrotype till they have brought that style of picture to perfection. And photographs and ambrotypes cannot be made better or more natural at any gallery in the United States. To all who would have an artistic representation of their features we would say, go to the Hanberry Brothers' Oak Gallery, adjoining the Bethel block.

MILITIA.—The members of the late enrolled militia of Memphis hold a meeting Monday evening, at seven o'clock, to take further measures to obtain pay from the United States Government for the time they were in service. The bill, we learn, for this purpose, has passed its first reading in the lower House, and the prospects are considered very flattering. It is estimated that a million dollars will accrue to Memphis from the passage of this bill.

MUNICIPAL COURT.—Geo. W. Waldron, Judge. Adjourned over to Monday, the 18th instant, in consequence of the illness of Judge Waldron. All jurors and witnesses must be in attendance at an early hour on Monday morning.

The New Orleans Times of the 15th says:

We commend this circular to the merchants, traders and residents of the Mississippi valley, with the assurance that all business with the house will be promptly and faithfully attended to:

> "AGENCY LIVERPOOL AND SOUTHERN S. S. Co.
> NEW ORLEANS, November 13, 1867.
>
> "MR. ——: The undersigned have established an agency in Memphis, Tennessee, for the purpose of signing through bills of lading for cotton shipped thence to Liverpool, Havre and other Continental ports by steamships and sailing vessels, thereby obviating the delay, variation of exchange, etc., hitherto experienced.
>
> Parties desirous of holding their cotton in this city subject to the order of the shipper, can have the same insured against press risks, under special open policy, until the presentation of a bill of lading for the same is properly indorsed.
>
> "Very respectfully,
> "J. H. ASHBRIDGE & DECAN."

There is over one million of dollars of real capital invested in this line of steamships. Foreign capital is much required and wanted in the lower Mississippi valley. Encourage this investment as it should be, and there will be additions and a steady increase hereafter.

Messrs. Irvin & Co., an old firm of commission merchants of our city, will represent this valuable line in Memphis. Those of our merchants and cotton factors who wish to ship to Liverpool can find no better or safer mode of transportation. We can freely commend the line to shippers. Mr. Irvin will give all necessary information, and sign through bills of lading via this line. At another time we will be more able to exhibit the advantages of direct trade.

TEXAS TONIC SYRUP

A Vegetable Compound for the Rapid and Never Failing Cure of

CHILLS & FEVER OR FEVER & AGUE

Every Poison has its Antidote—Every Disease has its Cure!

THE people of the Mississippi Valley, and throughout the entire South, have long felt the necessity for, and want of, a SAFE, CERTAIN AND RELIABLE REMEDY, as a substitute for Quinine, Strychnine, and other poisonous Drugs, for the cure of Fever and Ague, or Chills and Fever. We claim, and the results will show, and bear ample testimony to every unprejudiced mind, that the Texas Tonic Syrup has supplied this want and accomplished this purpose. Its Tonic, Alterative and Antiseptic qualities are such that none can possibly be disappointed in its effects. Upon its own merits, therefore is it sustained. A single trial is all that is needed to stamp this remedy as the greatest specific of the age.

The ingredients of which this Medicine is composed are simple productions of nature abounding upon certain streams in the State of Texas, and were ever used by the Aborigines of that State as a specific for Fevers of all kinds, and especially Fever and Ague, which they never failed to cure.

A celebrated physician, acquainted with these facts, has furnished us his theory upon this important subject, and hence the product properly named TEXAS TONIC SYRUP, which we now offer to the public as a specific and POSITIVE cure for Fever and Ague, or Chills and Fever, no matter of how long standing.

Having had indubitable evidence of its prompt and certain effects from the testimony of a multitude of respectable citizens, we do not hesitate to recommend this preparation in all cases of Fever and Ague and Chills and Fever; indeed, from the facts in our possession of its intrinsic value, it would not be too much for us to state that when the directions are strictly complied with we warrant a cure in every case, where it is tried. It is pleasant to the taste and the cheapest Medicine in the world. Therefore, in truth, it may be declared the day is not far distant when it must be appreciated and used in every household, where Fever and Ague or Chills and Fever is found to exist.

FINLEY'S CHURN DASHER

Got one of them yet? Got one of what, Sir?

Why, one of the "Finley Churn Dashers."

Why do you ask me that question, sir?

BECAUSE one of them is needed, no doubt, and that badly, among your household conveniences, that the laborious an troublesome item of churning may become an agreeable recreation to the ladies, upon whom such duties usually devolve.

What's the Article? What's the description? What's it do, pray, sir?

Well, it is simply two screw propeller wheels attached to the lower end of a staff or handle which is placed in the "old fashioned" wooden churn, and worked in the same manner precisely as the "old dasher"; these two wheels revolve rapidly and in counter directions at every up and down movement of the "dasher," completely disengaging and cutting the cream into the minutest particles; while at the same time by aid of the "air beds" in each division of the wheels, keeps the whole bulk of the cream supplied with constant currents of fresh air, thus securing by the simplest process the true principles of "Good Butter Making."

Well, sir, is the thing simple—very simple?

Why, so very simple when seen, that not a word of explanation is necessary. Why "Biddy," "Aunt Dinah," or the eight year old child can both UNDERSTAND and USE it, and couldn't for their lives imagine any other purpose for it.

Is it Durable and Substantial, sir?

It is made of the best sheet Zinc—will not rust—strong—neat, and with ordinary care, will last as long as you and your grand children's children.

Long enough. Well, my friend, does it make GOOD BUTTER and QUICK?

It does not only make GOOD BUTTER, but about ONE-FOURTH MORE, to a given amount of cream, under like circumstances of quality and temperature, and it does so in about ONE-HALF THE TIME required by the use of the "old dasher." Am, however quite ready to confess that it will not make Butter as quick as the boasted "Five Minute" and other "Lightning" Churns, our word for it, we have it no quick, for the very plain and simple reasons that the extraordinary rapid operation of such Churns yields as the result a MASS OF SOFT, LARDY, UN-SAVORY STUFF, instead of those RICH, GRAINY, WAXY, FIRM and LIVELY QUALITIES which constitute REAL GOOD BUTTER.

Well, sir, I have one of the "old fashioned" Churns—an old family relic of several generations past, and do I understand you that nothing more is required than one of the "FINLEY DASHERS?"

Nothing else whatever to complete the SIMPLEST, CHEAPEST, and MOST SATISFACTORY CHURNING APPARATUS that the world has yet produced.

Well, friend, you're exceedingly [illegible] but a little suspicious. Can't help it. Are you sure this is not one of the Yankee humbugs—one of the "Machine Nutmegs," or one of the "Men of the Universe Hams" sort of tricks; such things that would, to look upon, bring a "broad guage" grin to the phiz of the most fastidious epicure—but with something of a change in the "programme" and scenery when coating a sly peep at the cook after many fruitless efforts to slice a grind or two. Ugo! such looks and such "coughing" is all understood and "thusly done for."

Methinks I discover a mutual sympathy, a similarity of experience and a similar determination to avoid all humbugs, especially with the "Yankee" sense. My friend, "FINLEY'S DASHER" is NO HUMBUG—not a bit of it, sir. 'Tis a "home invention," and will, upon its own true merits, win its way into every household in the land, North and South. The Dasher is open to competition, and for "common sense," every day practical use and household economy, we say to Yankee or anybody else, BEAT IT IF YOU CAN.

Remember, that active, stirring, energetic men, who are willing to "pull off coat and roll up sleeves," "CAN, with a small capital, realize one hundred per cent. profit at every thirty to sixty days—inducement enough, certainly; and we are prepared to offer such to all who will apply." "Why not?" are you? "it's good for you. Now so far as to a just soon to fit yourself out "hard times," "no employment," "no situations." Come and get employment and good pay—employment for thousands—employment "big paying remunerative. The field of operation is as wide as the whole country—choose your own grounds—States, Counties, Cities, Towns and the Rural Districts—North, South, East and West. It is for you. Can you "jump" the ring—horseback, by wagon, railroad and steamboat, and it will pay you well to do it, if whenever you may go with the Dasher you will find ready customers, and you may be assured at the "first going"—whatever you are compelled to take your "eyes open" ask you, "accept the situation" to make your own fortune, and you'll have your "[illegible]," "golden dreams" and "dine by noon," and take hold of this work with a vim; "drive it" ahead, and soon the empty purse will be full—ensuring never failing—and friends will spring up by the dozen.

Remember, that in addition to the large profits there are TWO PRIZES at stake, and we want you to get one or both of them—TWO HUNDRED and FIVE HUNDRED DOLLARS.

SOUTHERN GIRL'S SONG.

Kennst du das land wo die Citronen bluhn?—GOETHE.

Knowest thou the land where blow the citron flowers?
Where, bannered gray, the live-Oak proudly towers—
Where tall Mimosas flaunt their feathery plumes,
And evening airs grow heavy with perfumes?
Where night, all glorious with myriad stars,
Veils sought of radiance with murky bars?
Knowest thou the land where faithful honor's keeping
A tireless watch above young freedom's sleeping?
Where sunlit heroes [illegible] living lips,
And [illegible] glory's [illegible] eclipse that?
Where hearts beat deep, though oft in muffled strain—
Where rumors live [illegible] will live again?
Knowest thou the land, renowned in song and story,
Where [illegible], all cypress-wreathed and gory,
Tells a tale of [illegible] and wrong?
'Tis ours! our South-Land! Tortured oft and long,
She lifts not from the dust her regal head,
Where low 'tis bent above her glorious dead!

'Tis ours! our South-Land! Rise again in beauty!
Thy children call thee to a nobler duty,
Than watching graves which fame eternal keeps!
Turn on the kneeling forms, and eye that weeps!
They pray—"O, mother! arise in might,
Establish all thine own in deathless right!"

There is no marble white enough

There is no language strong enough

And is the tallest tribute

And in [illegible] utterance
Our fondest love expressed,
For the hallowed name of Mother
To us was truly blessed.
Then carve in enduring letters
The name we loved the best.

MASCULINE MASKS.

BY GEORGE MARTIAL.

"A young gentleman having some leisure time on his hands, desires to open a correspondence with some young lady who has good looks and a lively disposition to recommend her. Object, fun, and perhaps matrimony. Address X, 44, 444, P. O."

The most of you girls will read this advertisement; some of you will say that you don't, and read it on the sly; but you will read, just to see what X has to say for himself. You will read not only this, but similar advertisements, in which other modest letters of the alphabet offer young ladies the rapture and [illegible] of corresponding with them; and you will wonder, some of you, in your innocent little hearts, what these masked gentlemen are like, who, under cover of an initial, invite your acquaintance.

I have the honor of knowing Mr. X, who will correspond with you if you are good looking and lively enough; and I have thought lately that I could not do a better thing than give you his photograph—I mean his mental photograph—for my desire is to give you some notion of the style of your masked friends in general. X, the person in question, is what you would call fine looking, and I should style hard looking. You would look at his mustache and shirt bosom, both of which are perfect. I should observe that his fine dark eyes were rather shallow, and shifting, and should make a note of certain hard, sneering tones; but of course there is infinite variety among these masculine masks. There are better looking and worse looking men than X. The mental photograph is more easily drawn, and perhaps that is best done by telling you what it is not.

But I see that I have commenced in the wrong place. Let me tell you first what sort of answers these advertisements generally bring. I am half afraid to say it, for the wrath of women can be terrible, but these answers are very apt to be stupid. It is very fine and very funny, to address an unknown X, whose object is fun, and perhaps, matrimony; but when you have out your note-paper, and your pen, and have written Mr. X, what is a modest young lady to say next, to a man whom she never saw in her life, who may be a colored coachman, for what she can tell, and whose one claim on the honor of her notice is that he has the impudence to tell lovely and lively young ladies that they may write to him.

Then you know, girls, as a rule, that you don't write good letters. You have not done much thinking yet, in your young young lives, but I can readily imagine that even an accomplished letter-writer might find some difficulty in shaping a letter to the X, Y and Z masks. Naturally, out of the many pale letters written in uncertain handwriting, X gets many that are, as I say, stupid; and it is one thing to look at a pretty girl while she talks stuff, and watch the fall of her eyelashes, and the tremble of color in her cheeks, and another to read the "stuff" aforesaid, in the pale ink and the uncertain handwriting, with no certainty that the writer, no matter what she may hint, is not freckled and forty.

For instance,

"DEAR MR. X: I noticed your advertisement and think that a correspondence between us may be agreeable. My friends say that I am good-looking, and I like fun. Address, Clare, etc."

Now what is a fellow to make out of that? "Her friends say," but who vouches for the friends' taste? and if she does like fun, who don't?

Here is another:

"MR. X—YOUNG MAN: Seeing as you are one fool, I thought I would be another, and keep you company. I supposed I like fun; as there isn't an old maid in the community that doesn't purse up her lips, and quote something about whistling girls, etc. For looks, I am an angel! carroty hair, turnip nose, etc., etc."

Now girls, is this a young lady to charm a young man? Men who have renounced belief in the honor and modesty of women, believe at least in their superior refinement and delicacy, but would it be easy to think of the slang writer of the above as delicate and refined?

Think over these two letters, for they are fair specimens of the majority of letters received by our masculine masks, and then we will go on. There are, of course, clever and interesting letters—one in a hundred, we will say; but a certain doubt hangs over these letters. What does a clever woman want of X, Y and Z? She should have admirers enough on her list already. If she is modest and attractive, what is she doing there? If she lacks the first quality, she is a dangerous person to know. She may shoot X, or rob him, or poison him. You are opening your eyes very wide, my dears, at these atrocious suggestions? You hardly know that women can do such things; but if X gets entangled in an acquaintance with a clever and bad woman, it is safe to say that these things, any one of them, are likely to happen.

Now, when a correspondence is likely to have in it so much stupidity, so much slang and so much danger, for as little as you know of the world, you will agree with me, I think, that such a correspondence is not desirable.

And now for our mental photograph. The mask X, Y, or Z, is not probably fascinating, in good social position, or rich; because if he were any of these, or all three, he could find plenty of lovely and lively ladies, and plenty of adventure, without wading through the slang and stupidity, and running the risk; but if by some wonderful chance he combines these qualities, he is not a wise man or one with any serious aims in life, or he would have no time and inclination, especially time, for this "undesirable" correspondence; and what do you want, girls, of a frivolous fool? He is probably a disagreeable scamp who can't make his wickedness attractive to ladies who know him; or he is some awkward, sheepish fellow, who is afraid to speak to a woman, but thinks he might borrow a little courage of the inkstand; or, if he is honest, an unspeakable fool! Depend upon it, the man you would like to know, and perhaps to marry, will have no need of clapping an A B C mask over his features and inviting ladies to write to him.

There is another objection to a correspondence with a mask. I spoke of a doubt hanging over the clever letters; but there is in fact a doubt about all these letters. Just as we have been reasoning about X Y and Z, just so men reason about you. If you were attractive, why should you trouble yourself to write to a mask? and if you are good, innocent girls, how is it you are willing to write to a man whom you have never seen, and who may be unfit even to think of you? There are many men who would think that the arguments and warnings I am addressing to you are quite thrown away. They would reason that an innocent girl, who could be benefited by such arguments would never be guilty of such imprudence. That is not my belief. I am convinced that many of you write out of the innocence of your hearts. Why should you be so much afraid to write a stranger when all your notions of men are drawn from the decorous members of your own household? How should you understand how you will be suspected, when you hardly know that there are women who can do the things of which you are suspected? How should you now that the person who will pay for the "fun" spoken of is your own poor, little self? and that the "fun" will be at your expense? You will, if you show your letter at all, get in a corner with some girl, who will blush as innocently and ignorantly over it as you do yourself. You will be flattered to think that out of twenty or thirty letters, he was attracted by your answer alone, which (if he has not written the same thing to half a dozen other girls) is very much like saying that seeing you in the company with thirty of the ugliest women in the Union, he was struck by your appearance. You who have so little variety, and never the ghost of an adventure, will learn his letters by heart; when I say "you," I am talking to girls like that dear, little thing who lately wrote the old sinner now addressing you an artless little note, with innocence in every line of it.

But your X mask will show your letter to every man who will look at it. If you are so lamentably foolish that you have sent your photograph, [illegible] way to make your cheeks tingle if you could hear them. He will write you a [illegible] letter, and pride himself on forgetting all about it, and you too, until reminded by your answer. If he should have about him any such things as notions of honor, he will not be bound by them in your case. If you do not take care of yourself, he will argue that you really can't expect him to take care of you [illegible] supplying him [illegible] too much to suppose that he will refuse it; and provided your mask should be one of the exceptions mentioned as possible, and should be a man who can give a woman respect and honorable admiration, he will give it to any modest girl, whose notice will give him as much trouble as yours did little.

But, says somebody, Mr. Martial, didn't you ask for answers and a correspondence? was it not you who was [illegible] yourself on the fifty pretty girls who you hoped would write to you?

Yes, certainly, for when did George Martial pretend to be wiser, stronger, or better than the rest of his race? I set before you the evils fairly and honestly. I give you the advice that I would give to my sister. If after that you will write, where will you find a safer or more improving correspondent than George Martial? Some of the girls will write out the slang and the stupid letters, and I shall read the clever ones and answer them! Did I not just say that I am no wiser or stronger than the rest of mankind? and being neither young, rich, handsome, fascinating, nor serious about anything, I consider that I am exactly the person to wear a mask, and entitled to all the benefits of a mask correspondence.

WE wish to sell ONE-HALF INTEREST in our valuable establishment, situated on Cypress creek, four miles north of Florence, Alabama, consisting of Foundry, Machine Shop, Blacksmith Shop, Saw and Grist Mills.

This establishment has been in operation for over twenty years, and has at all times before the war not been able to supply the demand for work.

The establishment is driven by water and a twenty-horse stationary engine. There is in the machine shop three slide lathes, three iron planers, three upright drills, and all necessary fixtures for successful work.

The stock of patterns cannot be surpassed in the South. There is about one thousand acres of land belonging to the place, nearly all finely timbered. This property will be sold in order to enlarge the business in other branches of manufactory, as the location and advantages possessed at this place demand more extensive improvements than we are able to supply.

Capitalists wishing to invest in a profitable enterprise of this kind, will address the undersigned at Florence, Alabama.

One Thing is Certain

THAT however widely great men may differ, there is a large majority of doctors, lawyers and divines throughout the South who no longer doubt that Dr. Williams' Pulmonic Balsam of Wild Cherry and Wood Naptha is the only certain cure for Pneumonia, Asthma, Bronchitis, Diptheria, Coughs, Colds, Sore Throats, Palpitation of the Heart, Loss of Strength, Whooping Cough, Catarrh, Pleurisy, [illegible], and all diseases of the Chest and Lungs; and a certain and sure cure for Consumption in its early stages. That it cures all of the above enumerated diseases is a fact beyond controversy, as there are thousands of living witnesses to-day ready to testify who have been cured by this great discovery. Hear what some of our most eminent physicians of the South say. The distinguished Dr. Boon, of Macon, Ga., say, that "In every case he has tested this preparation, a safe and prompt remedy for all Pulmonary affections, and takes pleasure in recommending it as a reliable anodyne, expectorant, etc."
Dr. [illegible], a physician of deservedly high reputation as an able and experienced practitioner of medicine, entertains and expresses the same opinion, and recommends it extensively in his practice.
Dr. F. M. Gates, of Charleston, S. C., a gentleman of well known reputation, and a wholesale dealer and importer of drugs and medicines, recommends it in the highest terms and uses it, exclusive of all other remedies, in his family, with the most satisfactory results.
And we might add even thousands of certificates of like recommendations of this medicine, all of which would only consume time in reading to no purpose, as this great medicine is too well known through all the South, where it has been in use for the last twenty-two years, to need any further recommendation than this—that ALL who have used it once are not satisfied to be without it; and so great has been the demand, that it has been only recently that we have been able to make such arrangements for its manufacture as will enable us to supply the constant demands which we are daily in receipt of from leading druggists and other dealers throughout the South.
Having established our Laboratory at the well-known wholesale drug house of J. B. Wasson & Co., of this city, we are now prepared to fill all orders without delay, which will be promptly met, (to the trade only) and must be addressed to

THE DISCOVERY OF THE AGE

NO material which has ever been discovered has effected greater benefits in the household economy than

McGIMSEY'S MAGIC SOAP.

It is a labor saving invention as well as an invaluable remedy in scurvy, scald head, eruptions of the skin and piles. Dandruff is removed from the head, the teeth whitened and cleansed, plate and jewelry cleaned, stains effectually removed from carpets, furniture, [illegible], and all paint, varnish or marble with the greatest facility and without injury to the material. It is a great saving of time and labor in washing clothes. It is the only known soap which will wash flannels without [illegible] shrinking. All these important objects can be effected without injury to the skin of the most delicate fabric. It possesses no deleterious qualities whatever. The world is challenged to produce a soap which possesses so many valuable properties, and which is so innocent and safe. It is a home invention, and defies competition in any part of the world. It has been done a new city in Memphis, and its use is rapidly spreading throughout the South, and eventually will extend over the Yankee Nation, North and South America, Europe, Asia, Africa and Oceanica. Manufactured only by C. P. McGIMSEY, Memphis, Tenn., and can also be found at any respectable family grocery or drug store. The proprietor is determined that its manufacture shall keep pace with the rapidly extending demand for its use.
